REGIMENTAL MARCH

1. The official march of The Princess of Wales' Own Regiment is The Buffs.

REGIMENTAL SALUTE

2. The authorized Regimental Salute is the last two bars of Scotland the Brave.

GENERAL SALUTE

3. Notwithstanding the official General Salute of the CF is Loch Leven Castle, a Regimental Salute may be played for Regimental Officers entitled to the honour of a General Salute.

MARCHING COLOURS ON AND OFF PARADE

4. When the colours are uncased and the band is in attendance, the Colours are marched on and off parade to the music of The Buffs.

MARCHING CADENCE

5. While on parade with troops, the Pipes and Drums will play a selection of music that sets the pace for the Regiment. The music selection will facilitate any transitions in marching tempo, understanding that the Regimental standard marching tempo is 120 paces to the minute. When performing alone, or at tattoos, exhibitions etc, the tempo is left to the complete discretion of the Pipe Major.

TUNE LIST

6. From time to time, as it suits the Pipe Major, addition or deletions to the active list of performance music for the Pipes and Drums may be made. It shall always include the following tunes;
- O Canada;
 - Mallorca;
 - The Buffs;
 - Vice Regal Salute;
 - General Salute;
 - Regimental Salute; and
 - British Grenadiers.
