5. All band members will wear the provided kilt in the Regimental Tartan "Black Watch".

HEADRESS

6. Notwithstanding the normal tradition of headdress not being worn in the mess, members of the Pipes and Drums shall wear headdress when performing in the Mess.

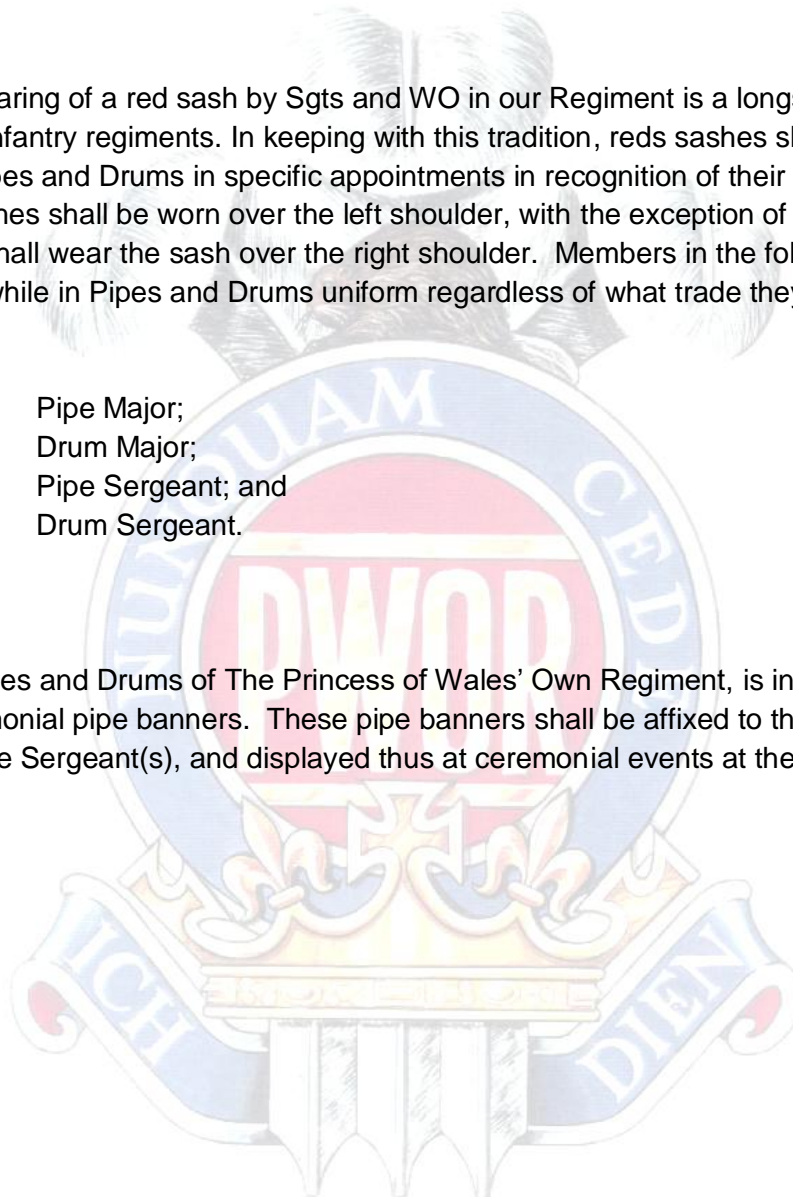

SASHES

7. The wearing of a red sash by Sgts and WO in our Regiment is a longstanding tradition common to many infantry regiments. In keeping with this tradition, red sashes shall be worn by members of the Pipes and Drums in specific appointments in recognition of their positions of responsibility. Sashes shall be worn over the left shoulder, with the exception of the Pipe Major and Drum Major, who shall wear the sash over the right shoulder. Members in the following appointments shall wear a sash while in Pipes and Drums uniform regardless of what trade they might otherwise have within the CF:

- a. Pipe Major;
- b. Drum Major;
- c. Pipe Sergeant; and
- d. Drum Sergeant.

PIPE BANNERS

8. The Pipes and Drums of The Princess of Wales' Own Regiment, is in possession of three embroidered ceremonial pipe banners. These pipe banners shall be affixed to the bass drone of the Pipe Major and Pipe Sergeant(s), and displayed thus at ceremonial events at the discretion of the Pipe Major.
